

Marine Electronic Navigation Systems

Electronic Navigation Systems – explains the application, uses, installation, operation, and troubleshooting of a host of electronic systems. Included are GPS, chartplotters, electronic navigation systems, radar, automatic identification systems, depth sounders, sonar, autopilots, electronic compasses, wind and water sensors, and their associated components.

