

COMMUNICATIONS

Communications is a vital key to any and every organizations success. In USPS with its 33 districts and 450+ squadrons these present a real challenge.

To help meet this challenge email lists are created to communicate to members at large, committees, and departments.

In the Administrative Department there is an email list called “Inside USPS” for all members interested in what’s new, policy changes, and announcement affecting the various committees the department. This is NOT a discussion list but a communications tools to send out the latest news in the department. To receive this communications the member must go to the following web sites and follow the instructions to “subscribe” to the list.

This is not a newsletter but a communications tool that sends out information on demand, or as needed.

It is managed by the Administrative Department.

<http://www.usps.org/member/>

Click on “Mailing Lists”

Here you’ll find the following sentence,

“Additional information and options, and many more lists, are available from the mailing list management page.”

click on “more lists”

Here you’ll find listing of mailing lists for USPS as a whole. Click on “Inside USPS” to go to the subscribe page and follow its instructions.

Tuesday, 05/10/2005