

The USPS Educational Fund's "Grant Project -2021-

In an effort to lend a helping hand to squadron's suffering from the malaise of the COVID pandemic, the Fund has decided to offer 20 copies of ABC3-18 to squadrons of USPS®, free of cost, shipping, and handling expenses. The offer is good for each squadron once during this project year.

To order, simply submit an order in the usual way that you order student materials. The ED-33, or the Catalog and Shopping Cart, will work. Don't worry that the price of the order shows up; HQ has modified their software to accommodate our offer and will bill us.

Once you get the materials, you may hold a class and charge for them in your usual way, or you may want to hold a free class to compete with nearby providers. If it suits your squadron, you may trade, transfer, or sell the materials to another USPS squadron. Please comply with the usual Educational Department and NASBLA rules as you would ordinarily. Since the materials are free to you, there is no sense in sending any unused copies back to headquarters.

We anticipate this project may stimulate your squadron to teach ABC-3, that it may give your Treasury a boost, and that it may enable you to sign up some new members. Let us know how it works for you!

Alan Wentworth, SN
Chair, USPS Educational Fund